Rosaria Lombardi

ROSARIA LOMBARDI

"In 1988, I graduated with a degree in Economics and Business and began my professional career at IBM as a systems engineer.

After four years, I decided to pursue a career as a freelance Chartered Accountant, focusing particularly on companies in crisis. I was appointed as a court commissioner and bankruptcy trustee at the Monza Court and provided expert consulting services in both civil and criminal proceedings.

I am registered as a Technical Consultant (CTU) with the Milan Court and as an Expert with the Public Prosecutor's Office of Milan. Additionally, I am a Certified Public Auditor (MEF), a Civil Mediator, and a Court-Appointed Administrator for proceedings under the jurisdiction of the Autonomous Section for Preventive Measures of the Milan Court.

I provide expert technical consulting in accounting and criminal matters (corporate offenses), income and asset valuations, including in separation and divorce proceedings, as well as in out-of-court and judicial settlements and corporate restructuring operations.

In 2016, I earned a degree in Psychology and, after registering with the Lombardy Order of Psychologists, I specialized in corporate organization and human resource management.

I am a member of the Disciplinary Board of the ODCEC (Association of Chartered Accountants) of Milan and serve on the ODCEC Milan Committees for Court-Appointed Experts in civil and criminal cases.

I am a speaker at specialist conferences and have authored several articles published in the Journal of Chartered Accountants of Monza and in specialized publications of ODCEC Milan.”

ANTONIO MALAVASI

“I graduated in Business Administration from Bocconi University in Milan in 1988 and obtained my qualification to practice as a Chartered Accountant.

In 1998, I became a member of the New York Society of Certified Public Accountants (USA).

Since 1999, I have been registered in the Register of Statutory Auditors.

My work primarily focuses on tax and corporate consulting, extraordinary transactions, and international taxation, including for large Italian and foreign companies.

I also serve as a technical consultant in civil and criminal litigation.

In 2009, I specialized in the nautical and aeronautical sectors, and since 2012, I have held various positions in industry associations.
